

JUDGE NICHOLAS DISPOSES OF SIX ETHERINGTON LYNCHING CASES

Two Indictments Nollled and One Suspended and Three Indeterminate Sentences to Mansfield Reformatory

STATEMENT OF JUDGE NICHOLAS IN SUTLEY CASE

Edward Schoeller, Weldon Denny Clarence Mulligan Released Immediately After Court's Decision
---Quincy Sutley, Elmer Seary and Joe Bush Will be Taken to Reformatory Next Week.

CASES DISPOSED OF.

Quincy Sutley, pleaded guilty to manslaughter, murder charge nollled, given an indeterminate sentence to the Mansfield reformatory.

Arthur Dover, pleaded guilty to manslaughter, plea later withdrawn. Prosecution made statement that Dover said in a speech following Watha, "If you want a leader follow me." Court granted defense an indefinite period to consider what action they would pursue.

Weldon Denny, age 19, indicted for first degree murder, prosecutor stated to the court that he did not believe that the state had sufficient evidence to warrant taking the case to trial. Asked that the indictment be nollled. Order so issued by court and defendant dismissed.

Edward Schoeller, age 19, pleaded guilty to manslaughter. Given a suspended sentence to the Mansfield reformatory on condition that the father place the boy in charge of a medical expert on mental and nervous diseases in an effort to improve his mentality.

Elmer Seary, age 19, indicted for first degree murder, pleaded guilty to manslaughter. Sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence to the Mansfield reformatory. Defendant had pleaded guilty a year or two ago on a larceny charge and at that time was given a suspended sentence to the reformatory. Seary and Schoeller were the boys who carried the rope up the pole and placed it over the peg.

Clarence Mulligan, who was indicted on the charge of first degree murder. Prosecutor stated that it had developed recently that Mulligan was a victim of mistaken identity and that the witness on whose testimony he was indicted, was talking about another man. Asked that the indictment be nollled. Order so issued by the court and the defendant dismissed.

Joseph Bush, 30, indicted for first degree murder; appeared in court and changed his plea of not guilty of murder in the first degree to guilty of manslaughter. He was sentenced to the reformatory at Mansfield.

DECISION OF COURT.

The plea of guilty in this case must be satisfactory to the Court; that is, if the Court entertained any doubt of the guilt of the defendant, it would be the duty of the Court to refuse to receive a plea of guilty. I can hardly think, from the statements of counsel on both sides, that there can be any doubt about that, and what I have to say in this case must be predicated upon that plea.

I am, however, profoundly impressed with the thought that I know of nothing in my life that is more onerous than the duty of assessing a penalty against a fellow-creature for the violation of law. The meeting out of the penalty for an offense under the law is a matter that should belong to a higher power than man; and it is the hope, and faith, and confidence that we have in a just Judge in the end that makes us able to endure this life at all, and the confidence that we have that our acts in this life will be judged from our environment, and that there will be taken into consideration by that last Court all the circumstances which tended to bring about the results of our lives. To entrust to a mere creature of His the right to say to a man for the infraction of a certain human law: You shall suffer a certain penalty, seems to me to be requiring of a court a degree of wisdom, and knowledge and temperament that but few of us possess, and I feel fully my own lack of confidence in my capacity to do it; and I know of no case, and I doubt if any Judge has ever sat in a case in which his own sense of right and propriety and duty is more likely to be shaken under him than in any case that grows out of this peculiar trouble here in Licking county.

I wish to say that I have reserved what I have to say until this morning in order that I might digest it and see whether my views are correct; and I am not disposed to criticize them this morning; I feel that I am right, and I will dispose of this case upon those principles, because I feel that they are right.

In order to get a complete understanding of this case, it becomes necessary for us to go back to that fatal day, the 8th of July, 1910; and I want to refer to a few of the horrible details that are more familiar to you than to me; and I do that in order that I may fully understand myself, rather than that you shall understand me. Before passing to that I will say that it would be astonishing to know the amount of interest that has been manifested in this county and elsewhere since this case began its result. Probably it would be astonishing to know the number of all kinds and character, some of which were intended to work upon the tender side and some upon the other side of my nature. They have not produced any perceptible effect, because I realize that the man who has no responsibility for results may say what he pleases, and the man who has the responsibility as to the results must act entirely and solely upon the dictates of his own conscience.

So I say that you cannot clear those who were opposed to this business of criticism for their conduct as to the events of that day; the whole city was to blame to a certain extent—how much I leave to the conscience of each one of you.

Some of you will remember the time when the men in this county and in Coshocton county who were able to be soldiers went to the front, and General Morgan was coming through this State; you not only had your police officers to protect the State against the incursion of the rebels, but you had your soldiers under arms. Did you sit down supinely and allow General Morgan to cross the State of Ohio and do as he pleased because you had no responsibility? No; the lame, and the halt and the blind seized their old shot guns or whatever they had, and they went out to meet him as a common enemy, and to protect their homes and their firesides and the good name of the State of Ohio against the invader. They did not forget their obligations in that day; it seems to me they were forgetting it in this; because the same obligation was upon the people at that time to protect the good name of the city, as was upon the people at that time to protect the good name of the State.

And so, I say, we are all, to some extent, responsible for the result of that day. We did not, any of us, do our duty, or this thing would not have occurred. And I am not seeking to excuse your sheriff, or mayor, or the police of this city, or any of them, and the good people of this county, who would have been in this court answering to a charge of murder against him, instead of his slayers him. I am not in a frame of mind to charge the entire transaction of that day to this boy and those who were associated with him. It goes further back. If a court cannot recognize the difference between human weakness and vice, the court is mentally too obtuse to sit in judgment. We all realize that, under excitement, such as had seized this town on that day, none of the people were in a normal state of mind, and probably it is to that fact, more than to anything else, that no effort was made upon the part of the good people of this city to protect the man who was in the county jail awaiting his trial, and which was supposed to be a place of safety—a retreat where his life might be spared and brought into court for trial. Frenzied seized some of the citizens until they were carried beyond themselves; in a more sober moment they would not have acted as they did; but they were caused to do that which brought disgrace upon the city, because they were carried away by intense excitement. This whole trouble was between the law-enforcing people on the one hand, and the saloon-keeper on the other. Do any saloon-keepers stand charged with this offense? Were the people who were most interested in this trouble brought into court? You tried one man who was a saloon-keeper and the jury found him innocent.

Some of those who were indicted are boys who were drifting along, the chips upon the tide, who got caught by those who lacked discretion; the really responsible people were discreet and thoughtful. By inciting the minds of others, they got them into trouble; they made their escape. I think I see the mental status of this town at that time.

Do you know, there has been one thing about this case that I am not able to understand—and I gather it from the talk of counsel, and from reading the testimony in the cases that have preceded this case, and from newspapers that have given accounts of the matter—I have wondered where were the good people of Newark on the night of the 8th of July?

It would seem that this trouble began soon after dinner of that eventful day. This town was not in ignorance of what occurred soon after that time. The deceased, Etherington, was brought through the streets of this town before he was lynched; the people were notified that a deadly shot had been fired; the news passed through this community like an electric shock, so that everybody knew it. That occurred soon after dinner. This lynching was not done until bed-time of that night. The statement is made here that the jail, in which this young man, Etherington, was confined for safety, as well as to be held until he could be placed upon his trial, was assailed for, some say, three-quarters of an hour, and some say for two hours, before it was entered. Where were the good people of Newark while that was going on? And what man, if he was called upon in this court room this morning to answer as to why that was permitted, and not a voice raised in protest against it, could defend himself upon any other ground than cowardice? Why didn't some good man go there and protest against what he saw was going on? Is everybody else in Licking county, outside of this dozen or dozen and a half entirely free from guilt as to what happened on that occasion?

It is not enough for the good citizens to say: We had elected officers to care for this city and for this county, and they were drawing a salary for doing so; and, therefore, we were relieved of that responsibility. A man who appreciates no more the blessings of the American government than to feel that, when he has gone to the ballot-box and elected men to care for the safety of this county, he has performed all the duty that is imposed upon him, is not a good American citizen; he does not appreciate the blessings of the American government.

It is the duty of every citizen—he owes it to the city in which he lives, to the county, and to the state—to see that the welfare of that city, county and state is protected against just such scenes as this; and it was the duty of every good citizen of this town to have protected it; and I am informed that but one man, who has since died (Ruben Berger), during this entire transaction—that he was the only one who raised his voice in protest against this murder.

So I say that you cannot clear those who were opposed to this business of criticism for their conduct as to the events of that day; the whole city was to blame to a certain extent—how much I leave to the conscience of each one of you.

Some of you will remember the time when the men in this county and in Coshocton county who were able to be soldiers went to the front, and General Morgan was coming through this State; you not only had your police officers to protect the State against the incursion of the rebels, but you had your soldiers under arms. ## MISSING LAD RETURNS AND TELLS SENSATIONAL STORY OF KIDNAPING

On Monday morning of this week Carl Brown, age 14, son of Charles P. Brown, 389 Indiana street, mysteriously disappeared from his home, but returned Thursday night and accounted for his absence by reciting a sensational story.

Carl claims that he was playing near the railroad at Arch street Monday morning when two strange men caught him and placed him in a box car, telling him that they were going to take him to an Oregon lumber camp. They threatened him if he made any outcry, but says that he managed to elude them in Indianapolis and made his way back home.

The boy claims that during the time the men had him in their custody they treated him as well as could be desired. There are some peculiar things about the story of the lad, however, and it is thought that the kidnapping feature is only a myth.

During their son's absence the father went so far as to consult a fortune teller. She told him, it is reported, that the boy was a captive in the cellar of a certain house in East Newark. The father consulted the police department, and Chief Hinkel searched the house in question.

ONE OF THE JAIL BREAKERS CAPTURED AT CLEVELAND

A telegram from the Cleveland police department to Sheriff Slabaugh says that Charles Allison, who escaped early Sunday morning from the county jail, had been apprehended in that city. The sheriff brought Allison to Newark Friday morning and locked him up again.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC UTILITIES BILL--- OTHER LEGISLATIVE NEWS

Columbus, May 12.—The House refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the Winters Public Utility bill and this called for a conference committee of both branches of the legislature.

Speaker Vinson named as the House conferees Winters of Erie, Kilpatrick of Trumbull, and Langdon of Warren. For the Senate Lieutenant Governor Nichols named Stockwell of Cuyahoga, McGuire of Tuscarawas, and Bader of Hamilton. Winters and McGuire are the joint authors of the original bill.

The appointment of the Senate conferees by Lieutenant Governor Nichols was the cause of an angry colloquy between him and Senator John E. Todd of this city, the manager of the Senate amendments that greatly changed the original bill. When the message came from the House asking conference Todd was at once on his feet. He was ignored and the committee named, the Senate immediately adjourning. When Nichols descended from his chair Todd went up to him and said angrily:

"Governor, I have never asked anything from you yet, and I am surprised that you deliberately appointed on that committee two men who are enemies to the bill."

"That is not so. Both Senators Bader and McGuire voted for the bill," answered the Lieutenant Governor.

"Bader did not," declared Todd. "This precipitated a discussion, which was ended by a clerk producing a journal, showing that Bader did vote for the bill."

"Well, he is unfriendly," insisted Todd. "The appointments were not made by you, anyway. They were made by the Governor, when you and Speaker Vinson went to him for a conference this afternoon."

"That is not true," answered Nichols, spiritedly.

"Well, some one told me that you and Vinson saw the Governor this afternoon," rejoined Todd.

"I do not know about Speaker Vinson, but I do know that the Governor did not suggest this committee," returned Nichols.

"But it was a deliberate attempt to pack the committee against the bill," replied Todd.

"I had no such intention," was Nichols' cool response.

"Well, you have done it, and you will never do this thing again if the Senate will stand by me," was Todd's final fling.

"That is the Senate's business," tartly answered Nichols.

SENATE PROBE COMMITTEE.

Columbus, May 12.—The Hudson probe committee of the Senate will not begin its hearings until the grand jury has made a report.

No member of the committee would discuss this phase of the case, but inasmuch as the committee adjourned to meet at the call of Chairman John E. Todd of Franklin county and failed to decide whether the hearings are to be open or secret, color was lent to reports that the committee is anxious to see what the grand jury produces.

Members of the Senate seem to figure the grand jury prove will not continue longer than the first part of next week. From this it would seem little time will be left for investigation before the final recess of the assembly next Thursday night.

It was stated yesterday the entire membership of both houses would be summoned before the committee. Those who give testimony as to cases in which they have been suspected of being involved will be free from prosecution, if the immunity bath section is to be literally construed, as this may cover indictments returned as well as prospective ones.

Opha Moore, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association and the Burns detectives will be compelled, from statements of members of the committee, to bear the brunt of the probing. Lobbyists are to be summoned, too, it is reported, but the grand jury's failure to intercept the flight of a score of those whose testimony may be considered valuable leads to a well-supported suspicion that the committee will have even poorer success.

Besides, by the time the committee is ready to go gunning for testimony, the legislature will be so near through that the lobby will be pretty well scattered.

Because of the frequently-expressed distrust of the effectiveness of the committee's work it is not believed the committee will dare to continue to hold star chamber sessions.

DORE BILL PASSED.

Columbus, May 12.—Although liberally denounced as a scheme to extend the terms of city auditors the Dore bill, changing the code so as to permit these officers to remain until July 1, was passed yesterday by the house by a narrow margin, and now awaits the governor's signature. The plea was made that new city auditors coming in on January 1 could not make the annual report required of them.

COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS.

Columbus, May 12.—The senate this morning passed the Smith bill which will permit the use of county fair grounds as parks and playgrounds during the long months of the year when they are absolutely idle.

The senate amended the bill so that the question of using the fair grounds shall be submitted to a referendum vote of the entire county, but the house will not concur in this amendment and the senate will redecide, leaving the bill in its original form.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON UTILITIES BILL.

Columbus, May 12.—The conference committee of the two houses on the Utilities bill is reported to be deadlocked. Representatives Langdon and Kilpatrick and Senator Stockwell are just offsetting Representative Winters and Senators Bader and McGuire who favor the bill as amended in the senate.

THE BOODLE TRIALS.

Columbus, May 12.—The trials for four men indicted in the bribery probe were today set for next week. Representative Nye, under four indictments for soliciting bribes, will be tried Wednesday. Senator Andrews and Wednesday J. Deigel, sergeant-at-arms, indicted jointly, will be tried Thursday and Senator Huffman and Deigel indicted jointly on Friday.

Senator Cetone and Representative Lowry's trials will be assigned later. The grand jury resumed work this morning with practically the same witnesses that testified yesterday.

KILLED BY SEWER CAVE-IN.

Circleville, May 12.—Marvin Vignas, aged 22 and single, lost his life yesterday while working in the sewer cave-in. The sides of the sewer caved in, covering him with twelve feet of earth.

DROWNED WHEN FISHING.

Owensboro, Ky. May 12.—Elmer Brown, eleven years of age, was drowned while fishing near his home. He got beyond his depth, and being unable to swim, sank. His body has been recovered.

HOUSE HAS PASSED THE ROAD BILL

Imposes Tax of Half-mill for Improvement of the Highways

WORK WILL BE TREBLED

In State Highway Department Under Whose Direction Huge Fund Will be Expended.

Columbus, May 12.—Though called "the swag mill" by Ralph Edwards to Cleveland and opposed by the larger counties, Senator Hudson's road bill, carrying a 1-2 mill state levy for road building, was put through the house yesterday by the farmer members and the representatives of the smaller counties.

Their attitude was explained by the provision of the bill that the huge road fund to be obtained from this tax is to be divided equally among the 88 counties, regardless of population, area or relative size of the tax duplicate. Cuyahoga county, which will be taxed the most will get no more than Noble county, the smallest in the state. The county budget commissions, which are to adjust levies, will have no control over the Hudson tax, which is a state levy.

"Where will you get the money under the 1 per cent tax limit?" asked Alexander of Cincinnati, who jumped on the bill with both feet. Huber of Delaware argued that the bill would reduce the high cost of living. Irvin of Preble also defended the measure.

Gebhart of Montgomery tried to amend by increasing the levy to 1 mill. Vaughan of Morrow showed that this was a ruse to get the farmers to vote for the amendment so as to get the bill back to the senate and then into conference committee, where the levy was to be cut to 1-5 mill. The amendment was voted down and the bill passed by 63 to 24. It will go to the governor for approval or veto.

The house also passed the McGuire bill, increasing the powers of the state highway commissioner.

The Hudson and McGuire bills are calculated jointly to rejuvenate the road system of the state, providing both the means, in the shape of $8,000,000 annually and the machinery. Both bills were prepared with the assistance of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, which was active in securing their passage. The federation does not consider that its work is done, but only started. It will now institute a campaign of education throughout the state with a view of inducing communities to take advantage of the newly enacted bills.

The McGuire measure recasts the good roads legislation of the state and reorganizes the highway department. The commission is to get $4,000 a year and there are to be three assistants: construction, maintenance and bridges. Each deputy is to receive $3,000.

The act provides that all state money shall be expended under the direction of the state highway department.

It is estimated that this will almost treble the work of the department, as heretofore two-thirds of the counties have drawn the state-aid money and applied it to the reduction of their own road tax. This will be possible no longer.

One of the chief provisions of the bill is that every file of road built under it must be perpetually maintained at the standard of its construction. It is estimated that approximately $2,500,000 is spent annually in Ohio in the repair of roads, a sum that is practically wasted, since under present systems much of the work has to be done over each year. Good roads are more cheaply maintained than poor ones.

The Hudson bill provides a tax levy of one-half mill on the tax duplicate of 1912, which, it is estimated, will produce a revenue of $3,000,000, to be applied, together with a like sum raised by the counties, toward the construction of an intercounty system of improved roads.

The money to be raised by this direct levy will be applied exactly as the present state aid is applied. If a county fails to act under the law by raising an amount equivalent to its share of the $3,000,000, the state department may, of its own volition, go into the county and build improved roads to the extent that the money available will pay.

Good roads enthusiasts are rejoiced at the speedy action of the Ohio legislature, as this state is beating Pennsylvania, which is proposing a similar

TERRIBLE TROUNCING WAS ADMINISTERED TO THE LIMA BEANEATERS

(By John H. Mackham.)

Time May 12. At Newham and his bunch of Molders broke even with a vengeance at San Pedro park. This day afternoon, winning the game in six innings with a total of 11 runs and 15 hits to their credit. Cornell worked for the locals for 4 1/2 innings, and was slaughtered, the visitors hitting him for 12 safe ones. It was after he had worked that the melting became tank and to stop it a heavy shower delayed the game for 20 minutes. The locals were unable to hit Longmore successfully, although Friend connected on a one run with one on base, and McClintock tripled to the left base. Aside from these two one drive runs were but two additional hits to the credit of the locals.

It did not appear to have any effect on the even control, and finally Mackham used the detrick and put the locals to work in the last of the first, but the Mexican was none too strong being wild, and allowing three hits. It was a relief to the fans when the umpire Duby called the game at the end of the sixth on account of darkness.

For three innings it looked like a ball game and a battle. In the first Baggan singled and stole, second, but the next three retired in order. In the second, with one out, Prysock drew a pass. Carlton was retired, but Blue and Longmore connected for singles, scoring Prysock. Baggan drew a walk, and Newham went down on a drive to Cornell. The visitors retired in one, two, three order in the third.

During the same period, in the first Hinte retired on a roller, but McClintock drew a pass. Houtz laid out to Longmore, and Mack was nipped at second. Nesser hit to Newham and Houtz was caught at second. In the second, Merchant was an easy out. Newton got a hit on Carlton's error, but Friend drove to Newham, who threw Newton out at second. Long drew a pass, and Cornell fanned.

In the third the locals tied the score. Hinte popped to Prysock, and Mack connected for a triple, followed by a single by Houtz. Nesser was an easy out.

The balloon appeared in the fourth. Prysock got a hit on McClintock's milt of a pop-up. Carlton popped one in the infield, which dropped safe. Blue singled to center, and Hinte juggled the ball while Carlton and Prysock came home. Longmore, then out to Houtz. Baggan laid out to Newton, and Friend dropped the throw to the plate. Newham beat out a bunt, and stole second. Rudolph singled to left, scoring Blue and Baggan. McConnell tripled, bringing in Newham and Rudolph. Harold tripled to center, scoring McConnell and scored himself on a wild pitch. Prysock fled out to Houtz. Carlton hit to right and Blue popped to McClintock. Eight runs.

The locals came back with two, when Merchant got a hit on Newham's fumble. Newton put one into Rudolph's mit. Friend drove a clean home run to the full sign, putting two runs. Long got a hit on Harold's error, and Cornell popped one to Rudolph. Hinte drew a pass, but McClintock failed to assist, retiring on a roller to Prysock. Two runs.

In the fifth Merchant muffed Longmore's drive to right. Baggan singled, Newham sacrificed them a base, and Rudolph singled to right, and Houtz played with the ball until Longmore and Baggan crossed the pan. McConnell struck out, Harold was hit and Prysock popped out to Friend.

For the locals, Houtz popped one to McConnell and Nesser fanned. Merchant was hit, but caught stealing second. With Casas pitching for the locals in the sixth, Longmore fanned. Baggan drew a walk, Newham singled to right, and Rudolph singled to left. McConnell popped one to Merchant, and Baggan scored. Harold was hit, hitting the bases. Prysock drove out to Newton, who muffed Rudolph at third.

For the locals, Newton walked and friend singled to center. Long drove one to Newham, and Friend was caught at second. Casas was an easy out, and Hinte fanned. At this point Duby called the game on account of darkness.

During the fifth inning a heavy shower fell, and the game was delayed about 20 minutes, and at the time the game was called the clouds had darkened the sky. The score:

In the evening the gentlemen accompanied the ladies and euchre was again the entertainment selected by the hostess. The souvenirs were received by Mrs. Holbrook and Mr. Frank Elliott. A dinner of delightful appointments was served at the small tables.

The Worth home was attractively arranged with spring flowers. In every available space were placed profusions of tulips, lilacs and varied colored carnations.

The members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club assembled at the home of Mrs. Daniel Altshool in Hudson avenue on yesterday afternoon for the regular club meeting. The game proved entertaining and the souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Walter Scott and Mrs. Judson Lewis, while the guest's trophy was received by Mrs. Anson White.

The One Per Cent Tax Rate Bill

By its action Wednesday in passing the Smith 1 per cent tax bill, the Ohio senate plainly said that it believes in giving the taxpayer protection against the tax spender. "The authority which demands must be curbed," said Governor Harmon in his message to the general assembly, and that body has obeyed the mandate. The Smith bill has passed both houses, but will have to go to the house for concurrence in a few amendments made in the senate. That will be done and within the next fortnight the bill will become a law. Senator Dore, of Tiffin, who has proved to be a strong arm of the administration, led the fight in the senate for this big bill. He succeeded, in defeating every material amendment offered by the Republican minority, which sought to both cripple and defeat this big reform measure.

The passage of this bill marks the most important step taken by the legislature and state administration to completely reorganize the taxing laws of Ohio. Adopted 60 years ago, the tax machinery, under modern conditions, was not only crude, but decidedly ineffective. Tax dodgers thrived under the old laws; farmers and owners of tangible property were compelled to bear an unjust portion of the tax burden, and the major part of personal property was not placed on tax duplicates.

The most iniquitous thing about the old system was that the taxpayers had no means to check extravagance of their public officers. These men decided on the amount of money they were to expend for a year, and then made a levy to produce that amount.
The taxpayers had no alternative but to pay.

Hereafter the maximum rate cannot exceed 1 per cent unless the people vote for a higher rate. A budget commission will inspect all separate levies in a county and see that they are kept within the 10 mills limit.
Sinking fund and interest, and such obligations as the people may by vote hereafter authorize are exempt from the 1 per cent limitation.

SOUTH SIDERS ADOPT PLANS

There is every indication that the citizens of the South Side are close upon the time when they will have relief from the ignominy and inconvenience of the grade crossings which have long been a menace to life and an injury to the fair property values of their section of the city.

At a rousing meeting held last night, engineers were present and exhibited suggestive plans and submitted an estimated cost of the improvement.

The plans were adopted and the committee into whose hands was placed the authority to secure the services of the engineers, was continued with instructions to place the plans and estimate in the hands of the council, together with the action taken by the meeting.

According to the estimate of the engineers, it will cost the city $137,378.00 to eliminate the grade crossings at Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets, and place the subways in position. This is 35 per cent of the total cost, the balance, $255,131.00 is assessed against the railroad companies, the total cost of the improvement being $392,509.00.

Before the improvement is positively assured, it is necessary to get the city council to approve of the proposed plans and submit them to the railroad companies for their approval or rejection. In case the railroad companies reject the proposition, the matter may be brought to the attention of the common pleas court which may approve of the plans and declare the improvement necessary and order the railroads to abide by the decision and assist in the execution of the plans.

The plans provide for the lowering of the streets named above, on an average of nine feet and the tracks raised probably on an average of four feet.
This will give a clearance from the street level to the lowest point of the bridge an average of 13 feet.

This will involve the construction of numerous retaining walls to take care of the vast amount of filling which will be required to raise the railroad tracks to the required level.

The Pennsylvania passenger station will have to be raised about four feet and the freight station seven feet, so the company will require elevators to handle their baggage and freight.
The railroad companies will have the advantage of eliminating a pronounced grade between the B. & O. and Pennsylvania crossing near the B. & O. depot and the Williams street crossing.
It was stated at the meeting that the heavier freight trains were helped every night to mount the grade between Fourth street and Union street.
They would have an additional advantage of eliminating the need of crossing watchmen and the danger of accidents like that which cost the life of Oscar Wolfe, Wednesday night at Union street.

The proposed subways at Second, Third and Fourth streets will have natural drainage, but at Fifth and Sixth streets it will be necessary to provide sewers to carry away the surface water.

This is made necessary by the fact that the approach from the south as well as that from the north will slope towards the center of the subway.

The plans of the South Side Citizens' association further consider the remedying of the trouble with the South Pork, which annually overflows and does much damage. They propose the removal of the Second street bridge to Jefferson street and the construction of a bridge with a longer span, the straightening of the creek channel and construction of dikes or levees to keep the waters within the banks during time of floods.

State Women's Reformatory

The good women of Ohio have won their fight to obtain a state women's reformatory. The house of representatives has by a unanimous vote ratified the Shaffer bill passed by the senate authorizing its erection. It will in many particulars be a duplicate of the State Reformatory for men at Mansfield, regarded as the model institution of the kind in the United States. Women delinquents for many years have not received a square deal from the great state of Ohio. That is prison facilities for them have not been so good as those for the men.
Hereafter women sent to prison will be in an environment that will help to reform instead of to discourage and to break their spirit. All females over 16 years of age convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor will be sent to the new institution which will cost $300,- 000. It is made unlawful to keep a woman in jail or workhouse for more than 30 days after sentence is imposed. Governor Harmon will, with the secretary and auditor of state, and the secretary of the state board of charities select a site for the new prison. The reformatory prisoners will be taught useful trades, and will be educated, and every semblance of harsh confinement will be removed so far as possible. Governor Harmon and Mrs. Harmon, both of whom were interested in the promotion of this necessary reform, were gratified when told of the action of the general assembly.

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Harmless, Old-Fashioned Remedy Brings Back Color to Gray Hair and Makes It Grow.

How many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which go to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old-time, tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy nothing equals our grandmothers' "sage tea." Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer.

Nowadays, when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

Druggists are authorized to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher.

The poets have sung in a harrowing strain of the moneyless man and his sorrow and pain. He gets the ice pitcher wherever he goes—no welcome for him, no relief for his woes! He is kicked from the hotels by the janitors' feet, policemen begrudge him the use of the street, he's chased from the alleys as though but a dog, and

THE MONEY- turned from the doors of the well synagogue; he LESS must drag out his days in MAN. the best way he can—the world has no use for the moneyless man. Supposing it's true, why should cuss words be hurled like bricks at the poor old long-suffering world? In ninety-nine cases or more out of ten, the blame should be placed on the moneyless men;

the lazy, the shiftless, when busted and wrecked, how much from the world are they due to expect? And why should industrious citizens give to loafers infesting the towns where they live? When bitter misfortune comes down on a guy who's shown that he's honest and willing to try, the world loosens up in a praiseworthy way, and does what it can for that suffering jay. But most of the hollow-eyed moneyless men have bunkoed this planet again and again.
I don't blame the world that it's likely to pan on the chestnutty spiel of the moneyless man.

SENTENCE OF TWENTY YEARS FOR MANGOTTI

A telegram from Thomas C. Considine of the New York police department says:

"Romeo Mangotti, convicted of murder in the second degree, sentenced to 20 years in prison by Supreme Court Judge Frederick Crane."

Mangotti was a resident of Newark.

Frank Joseph, 62, and son Clarence fired by another son, who was arrested.

*****

The thin and bloodless, with pale cheeks, white lips and frail angular physique, of this community have been much interested in the reports of physicians and others concerning the effectiveness of the treatment for increasing the red and white corpuscles of the blood, thus adding color and weight with its accompanying vigor to the depleted system. A gain of from ten to thirty pounds is not at all unusual where the treatment is regularly used for several months, while the color improves and the frame becomes sturdy. Most good apothecaries supply it in the form of three-grain hypo-phosphate tablets, put up in sealed packets, with directions for home use. Its action aids assimilation and absorption of the food eaten very promptly.

Emancipation

The Regal Shoe Company refuses to be bound any longer to the hoary old tradition of the Shoe Trade that standard shoes must necessarily be built to fit certain arbitrary prices—$3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, and so on.

It refuses to believe any longer that a shoe that can be sold at, say, $3.85, must be "built up" to sell at $4.00, or else "skinned down" to sell at $3.50.

It has announced that every Regal Shoe made hereafter will be priced at

Cost, Delivered to the Customer, Plus 5 Per Cent. Commission

This may figure out in "even money" or it may not, just as it happens. But, however it figures, the amount will invariably be verified by certified public accountants and stamped on the shoe at the factory, and that will be the price you pay.

In justice to yourself you should not be asked to pay more. In justice to the shoe it should not be "skinned down" to cost less.

RUTLEDGE BOYS DEFEAT PICKED QUINTET TEAM

The Rutledge team again demonstrated its ability to beat the picked team in the match which took place at the Music Hall and a portion of the winning series by 5-3 pins. The games on the afternoon of May 11 were hotly contested, but the Rutledge team succeeded in winning by one pin, making a great finish, while the picked team had some hard luck and bad breaks in the last frame. On the Music Hall alleys the Rutledge team took a lead of 38 pins in the first game, which was entirely too much for the picked team to overcome. The teams stood even in games, each winning three and losing three. The scores at each alley and the average is as follows:

ORPHEUM.

The bill which opened at the Arcade theatre Thursday was indeed a very pleasing one. A political sketch that keeps one's nerves on a high tension all during its presentation, an act in which each and every one of the company is a high class star, an act that has a climax to "The Man of the Hour," or "The Third Degree," is an act excellently acted and sketched throughout. Such is "Politics and Petticoats," by the Augustus Neville & Company.

Greendell and Henry were a big hit in their neat and refined singing and dancing act. Mr. Henry is an excellent dancer and introduces in his numbers, many new and difficult steps. Miss Greendell is a very pretty lady and renders some of the late song hits, much to her credit. The Meek International Trio scored many rounds of applause with their novelty act. Mr. Lorch surely deserves the championship of Europe, for being the greatest weight lifter and strong man which his country so willingly bestowed upon him. Alice Dudley, singing comedienne rendered some very pretty song numbers in almost every dialect. She is quite a clever looking young lady and you are sure to like her. The Orpheum-scope has a good comic film.

Authorities of Baku, the Caspian seaport, desire to improve the water supply of the town by bringing water from the mountains, 120 miles away.

AN APPEAL TO WIVES

How She Keeps Her Baby Healthy—Test Free

An easy way for any mother to raise sturdy children

So far back as the memory of man goes every mother has had her own peculiar ideas about how to keep her children healthy. But women are getting to agree on the main point more and more, and that is that it is of first importance to keep the little one's bowels open.

From the bowels comes health or sickness. Unless a child is born diseased it can be kept healthy, and made to grow to vigorous maturity, if the bowels are kept free and pure in infancy and childhood. It is the main point for the mother to look after. The amount of nursing and playing a child does keeps its bowels moving naturally, but there comes a time when they overeat or eat something that does not agree, and then a laxative is absolutely necessary.

Don't wait until matters get worse—give a laxative at once. What laxative are you going to give? Stewed fruit and things of that kind? No, not when the child is really constipated. Give a scientific laxative, a formula based on forty years of experience with children. Such a laxative is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of mothers are already giving in these emergencies. It is the mainstay of the children of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis. Mrs. Chas. H. Reichert, Richmond Hill, L. I., and numerous others.

Don't give pills, tablets or strong cathartics for the child doesn't need it. Go to your druggist and buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, gentle, free from gripping and exactly suited to the needs of infants and children. If you want to try it before buying write Dr. Caldwell and he will send you a free sample bottle. He has sent thousands such bottles to mothers.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

LYNCHING

time; and this boy and others, who were probably like himself, got caught in the drag-net. They ought to understand that the law is not revengeful; it does not seek vengeance upon one who has committed a crime; it seeks to correct, it seeks to reform; and if, in a moment of weakness, this young man was carried beyond himself and did that which he would not in a sober moment have done—if he were given a penitentiary sentence, I can hardly think that he would look upon the law as an institution established for the correction of those who go astray, but would say that the court was spiteful and revengeful.

I have not the slightest confidence in the correcting power of the Ohio Penitentiary. I have never known a graduate of that institution who had not graduated in crime; and the history of all of them will bear that statement out as being true. I have investigated the Reformatory of our State; I have seen that institution grow to the point where it is admired not only all over this nation, but all over Europe. Some of you will remember that at an International Congress some years ago, held in the City of Washington, the entire membership, representing every Christian nation on the globe, and some who were not under Christian civilization, came to the Ohio Reformatory to study it, and they pronounced it the most perfect of its class in all the world.

I am going to send this young man there. I will not do what the Colonel (Colonel James) has asked—suspend sentence upon him. A very excellent reason for that is that I do not think it is for his good. I am frank to say to you now that if I believed that it was for his best interests, that the sentence should be suspended upon him, notwithstanding it would bring down upon my gray head a good deal of criticism, I should unhesitatingly suspend the sentence, but I do not believe I should do it for him. I have one object in this whole matter:
That is, his reformation. If he can be turned now from the course in which he has started, and become a good man and a good citizen, I think it will help to some extent the awful calamity that fell upon this community upon that eventful day.

The sentence of the court is that he be confined in the Reformatory at Mansfield. That sentence is indeterminate. His conduct will lengthen or shorten that term.

After the Sutley case had been disposed of five other defendants were brought into court to enter pleas before Judge Nicholas. They were Art Dover, Weldon Denny, Edward Schoeller, Elmer Seary and Clarence Mulligan. All of these cases were disposed of except that of Dover and in all probability he will be brought to trial on the original charge.

It was an impressive scene in the court room as one development after the other was unfolded before the court. Dover evidently expected a reformatory sentence, probably suspended, but after Prosecutor Smythe had stated what the prosecution expected to prove against the defendant, the plea was withdrawn with consent of the court and without prejudice.

Dover was greatly affected by the new turn in the case. He has been fighting hard to get out of jail on bond but has been outwitted at every turn.

When the court intimated that it was evident on the statement of the prosecutor that Dover was a self-proclaimed leader, that this placed the case in a different light and that he did not feel like taking advantage of the defendant's plea if they desired to withdraw it.

Attorney Kibler, one of Dover's counsel, stated that, as he understood the case, Dover was one of the least guilty of any of the defendants, that all the evidence the state had against him was that he made a speech near the jail. Mr. Kibler stated that this speech was made under duress or threat and that the defendant had no other connection with the lynching.

Prosecutor Smythe then addressed
the court and said:

"We expect to prove that Dover mounted the stone after Watha had spoken, declared that he (Dover) was an Eagle and that it was up to the brother Eagles to avenge the death of Howard. That he said: 'If you want a leader follow me.' The state has no further information or knowledge of the defendant's action after he stepped down from the stone and disappeared in the crowd." Mr. Smythe said that the state had no evidence that Dover was threatened or coerced into making this speech.

The court stated that if it was the wish of the defendant's counsel to withdraw their plea, he would grant that request and erase from the court records any reference to it and place the defendant in the same place he occupied before coming into court.
If they desired to stand by the plea,
he would dispose of the case at once.

He intimated that the statement made by the state's attorney would not warrant him in imposing a reformatory sentence on the defendant and that he would make such corrections and entries on the records that he could come to trial without prejudice because of his having entered a plea of guilty.

The counsel for Dover took advantage of the opportunity to withdraw their plea and asked for time in which to consider the question further. The court granted them all the time they wanted and said that he would come to the city at any time to pass on the case finally if they desired to stick to their plea.

Kibler and Fitzgibbon for the defendant were visibly impressed with the new turn in the case. Dover himself was in a highly nervous state when he realized the serious predicament he was in. His hands

was one of the boys who climbed the pole and was the individual who placed the rope over the peg on the telegraph pole. He said that the only reason that would justify a suspended reformatory sentence was the mental irresponsibility of the boy.

Judge Nicholas gave the boy a suspended reformatory sentence on condition that the father place his son under the care of a medical expert in mental and nervous diseases. The father agreed to do this.

Weldon Denny, age 19, was in court and the prosecutor stated that he did not feel that the state had sufficient evidence against the defendant to warrant bringing the case to trial. He asked that the indictment be nolle and the defendant dismissed. He said that they had evidence to show that Denny was in the crowd but that they had little evidence to connect him with active participation in the lynching.

The court ordered the indictment nolle and the defendant dismissed. He stepped from within the bar enclosure and greeted his mother and sisters and other relatives who were overjoyed over his discharge.

Elmer Seary, age 19, through his attorney, entered a formal plea of guilty to manslaughter and said that while the defendant had been in court charged with a felony, he had not been convicted but pleaded guilty to petit larceny. Prosecutor Smythe stated that Seary was under a suspended sentence to the reformatory on this charge. He further stated that Seary was the lad who climbed the pole and handed the rope to Schoeller after the latter had dropped it while climbing the pole. The court stated that in view of the fact that the defendant had already violated the conditions under which his former sentence was suspended that he had no other course to pursue than to order that sentence carried out. He therefore gave the lad an indeterminate sentence to the reformatory. He urged the lad to write him frequently as to his progress while in the institution.

Clarence Mulligan, was the next defendant brought to the attention of the court. The indictment against Mulligan charged him with assault and battery, riot and first degree murder. He pleaded guilty to the first two charges and was fined last fall.

The prosecutor stated that Mulligan was one of those who assaulted Etherington at the park. He further stated that there had always been some doubt in the minds of counsel for the state as to Mulligan's connection with the lynching. He said that they believed that their witness, on whose testimony Mulligan was indicted, was mistaken. That the witness was testifying about another man whom he believed was Mulligan.

He said that the witness had made frequent trips to the jail to establish the identity of Mulligan and that after the last trip he had reported that he was not sure that he was right. Mr. Smythe further stated that he believed that the state had the man to whom the witness referred, now in custody in the jail. He asked that the indictment be nolle and the defendant dismissed.

The court so ordered and Mulligan was released from custody.

Joe Bush, under indictment for first degree murder, and who turned state's evidence at the Bolton trial at Mt. Vernon, was the last defendant to be brought into court. He formally pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was given an indeterminate sentence in the Mansfield reformatory.

In the case of Schoeller it would have been necessary for the lad to remain in the custody of the sheriff until certain papers could be sent to Mansfield certified to, and returned, but the court placed him in the custody of his attorney, Mr. Fitzgibbon, and he left the court room practically free from custody.

Most of those who witnessed the impressive scenes in the court room were satisfied with the action of the court. In fact, those who held the opposite opinions, were in the minority. Judge Nicholas in his statement from the bench before sentencing Sutley and in his opinions and sentences upon those defendants who followed Sutley to the bar of justice impressed all that he was trying to view the cases fairly and disposed of them with the idea of correcting the offenders rather than that of avenging the law.

His action in the Schoeller case was taken with the idea of correcting a condition for which the young man was not responsible. He referred to a case which had come before him in Holmes county in which a defendant, deficient mentally, was placed under the care of a physician and was developing into a worthy man. He believed it might work in the case of Schoeller.

In Maryland a candidate for office cannot legally pay the carriage of a voter.

HAS RARE OLD VIOLIN.

Emil Sturmer, the young Dresden violinist, who will be heard in Granville during the May Festival, is the possessor of a rare old Guarnerius violin that is several hundred years old. This violin was presented to him by the Graf Von Helldorf of Dusseldorf, as a testimonial of his admiration for the talented young violinist. Young Sturmer naturally prizes this instrument very highly, and never permits it to be taken out of his sight, lest something should happen to it. It is a perfect specimen of the work of this great violin maker, and has a beautiful, big sonorous tone. 5-8d1f

SARGUS BROTHERS IN TROUBLE

Compelled to Raise Cash Immediately $15,000 Stock of Ladies' and Children's Wearing Apparel Almost Given Away to Raise Cash.

In today's edition of the Advocate Sargus Bros., who occupy the adjoining building to these offices, announce in a half page ad, the serious consequences that would ensue unless a large amount of cash (approximately $15,000), was gotten together immediately. Fact is that the creditors of this concern are clamoring for their money—must be paid by Monday next. The entire stock is now in the hands of the Jersey City Sales Co. for instant disposition regardless of what it will bring. The store located at 29 west Main street has been literally packed since the sale opened last Saturday and several thousand dollars have already been raised. The balance must be forthcoming without delay. A representative of this paper was amazed at the ridiculously low prices Sargus Bros. have adopted to meet this contingency promptly and we do not hesitate to say that any woman or man in Newark or the entire county who has a dollar to spend can get three times his money's worth by paying a visit to this stupendous sale, which is now in full operation. The firm of Sargus Bros. handle everything in dry goods and notions. Ladies' and Men's clothing and ready to wear apparel and children's goods of every description. Saturday, May 13th, has been set aside for special bargain day, when the most colossal bargains ever offered will be dispensed to the public and from the way the crowds have been packing this establishment since the sale started it might be wise to urge shoppers to be on hand promptly when the sale opens tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 9 o'clock.

WHO IS TO BLAME

For So Many Sickly Children?

We hear of so many children who are thin, delicate, ailing and tired all the time, we are led to ask what is the cause, and who is to blame? Don't blame the children—they have no strength. They play hard, work hard at school, and rapid growth takes all their strength. It is the mothers of all such children who are to blame, for if they only realized what our delicious cod liver and iron tonic will do for their little ones, they wouldn't sleep at night until they had started them on Vinol.

Only a few days ago a case came to our attention.—Mrs. W. H. Gilmore of Durand, Mich., had a little daughter nine years of age. She was weak, pale, ailing and nothing seemed to do her any good. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once and gained rapidly in weight, color and strength.

We positively know Vinol will build up your little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try a bottle and if you are not satisfied we will return your money. We make this offer to show you our confidence and belief in Vinol. F. D. Hall, druggist.

Gray Hair? Accept This FREE TRIAL Bottle!

This week you shall have a Trial Bottle of my Gray Hair Restorer. Now, in order that you give it a fair test, without any expense or embarrassment, I suggest this plan:

Don't put my Gray Hair Restorer all over your head, but merely try a little spot in an inconspicuous place—behind the ear, for instance, and—

Watch the results. Note the change from gray, back to the old-time color of your hair. What a contrast to the common hair dyes, that stain the hair!

Watch that little trial spot—put the Hair Restorer on for a few days—just follow the simple instructions on the bottle. Gradually you will see the former natural color returning to the hair on which you applied the Restorer. Then you will be as delighted as the thousands upon thousands who have used this great Restorer.

You ask, how is it done?

This is how Mary T. Goldman's Gray Hair Restorer works: It restores the natural activity in the cells around the roots of the hair, thus enabling these exhausted cells to once more perform their functions; the cells are fed and invigorated.

Your hair turning gray proclaims the fact that you are getting old. And maybe you don't feel old at all! You know the advantages of being young—in society or business. So why be reminded all the time that you are becoming old when you need not be thus reminded? Why keep it ever before you? You deprive yourself of business and social advantages by keeping this fact before the world. It is not necessary.

Your idea that dyeing the hair is vulgar is quite right, but it is certainly the part of common sense and good judgment to restore the hair to its NATURAL color. And this is now possible by using Mary T. Goldman's Gray Hair Restorer.

Anxiety, worry or sapped strength have "grayed" your hair. This happens to millions of people. But by using Mary T. Goldman's Gray Hair Restorer the old-time color comes back and years are cast off from one's looks. Younger feelings are the logical companions to younger looks. A nation-wide army of grateful people have used Mary T. Goldman's Gray Hair Restorer.

You are invited to accept younger looks. Your feelings will be more buoyant; your pulse will beat with renewed vigor, occasioned by the feeling that you look younger.

Mary T. Goldman, Goldman Building, St. Paul, Minn., is the only person, thus far, who has discovered what will thus revive the hair cells—a solution as pure as water.

Right here is your opportunity.

FREE SAMPLE BOTTLES OF MARY T. GOLDMAN'S GRAY HAIR RESTORER WILL BE GIVEN AWAY THIS WEEK ONLY AT EVANS' DRUG STORE, NEWARK, OHIO.

Go and get one. It costs nothing.

Examine it—ask the druggist about it. Try it just in one little spot—none will be the wiser. Watch the change that comes over that little spot of your hair. When you see what the Restorer does, you can get more for $1 at the same place where you got the sample.

Remember, trial bottles this week only, at Evans' Drug Store, Newark, Ohio.

Give yourself the satisfaction of knowing what this Restorer will do. It is worth the experiment.

If your hair isn't gray, show this to some friend whose hair is gray.

If you do not live in the city and cannot call, then write today to Mary T. Goldman, Goldman Building, St. Paul, Minn., and I will send you the trial bottle and free comb by mail, postage paid, for 10c in stamps. Be sure to mention original color of your hair.

McClain's Store News

Handsome New Suits For Women

Magnificent Long Coats For Summer

The Weather—Fair.

Newark, Ohio, Friday, May 12, 1911.

Popular Prices.

A Large Purchase

Long Coats, Suits Skirts

We Bought at Low Prices. We're Going to Sell Them Cheaply.

Here is surely interesting news for the women folk of Newark—news about the newest things in Long Coats, Suits and Skirts—a large assortment lifted from the hands of the makers at a wonderful price concession, and it's more interesting to note that there's not one—absolutely not one—a second or an undesirable garment. Each one was created for this Summer's wear and it was owing to the manufacturer's immediate need for ready cash that afforded us the opportunity to sell you handsome, seasonable garments at just about half their former prices.

The racks on the south side of the store are simply packed with the beauties—white predominating—the display so gorgeous as to cause the common expression, "Oh!"

The Chic Things In Millinery

Yes, that best expresses our authentic display of Summer Millinery—the chic things. Chic, because we've the shapes—the trimmings and colors which are most becoming to you. And we wish to tell you of the large nearly everyone will come back to them later. It would prove logical to purchase yours now.

It's an exhibition almost entirely new—a collection of the most elegant and refined styles of the season.

McClain Millinery means much to well dressers, and, withal, it's fair in price.

Linen, Crash, Pongee and Silks

Coming as they do in linens, crashes, silk pongees and white serges, all daintily trimmed, all cut full enough to hang gracefully, all possessing the tailored-made effect—it's a display really extraordinary to the people of Newark. And to think that we bought them with about one-half chopped off, means that you save a full half, or better. You honestly owe it to yourself to inspect these.

The Better Sort of Clothing For Men

And stylish—you cannot find a McClain suit that isn't stylish and good fitting. Suits that are correctly tailored and from all-wool cloths, too. Every man who looks will buy—every man who buys will come again—such is the grip of honestly-made clothing. Our extraordinary display is really worthy your inspection. There's all sorts of styles from the loose, swagger to the more conservative—there's every good cloth—there's every desirable pattern—even the popular blue and black serges, fine black Thibets and black unfinished Worsteds.

In Tans, Greys, Blues and Blacks

Then there's fancy Cassimeres—fancy Cheviots—in an almost endless variety. And this is probably your last opportunity to get anything so good for so little.

One-Piece Dresses

Beautiful Foulard Silks

The Summer Silks and Silk Pongees Here Too.

There's a whole rack full right in the center of the store—so arranged that you can see them all together—and form a better idea as to just what color you would most desire. We were exceptionally careful in selecting these one-piece dresses; we realized that some times they would be worn without a coat and you'd want to look your best—and we know that you won't be disappointed when you come here to look them over. There's almost any color, or shade you'd desire—there's almost any trimming you could possibly wish for also. All new, fresh dependable garments, priced so closely that you'll marvel at how we do it. But it's simply close buying. So come tomorrow.

Some Beautiful Separate Skirts

The daintiest women in Newark can be exactly suited from the skirt stocks we are now displaying, so can the woman who desires the most serviceable of skirts. It is a well known fact that McClain skirts are different from those sold in other stores—that the garments are most liberal in size—that we alone give careful attention to the selection of cloths and trimmings—that every skirt is neatly and correctly sewn, not with wabbling seams that leave spaces uncaught.

There is womanly good sense displayed in the selections and our prices are lower than ever before.

Handsome New Suits for Summer

They are types of the best favored vogues in women's tailored suits for summer—suits to which must be attributed a very considerable portion of the prestige of this store as an authoritative fashion source. The white serges, daintily trimmed, are really handsome, while there's a score of other colors and cloths—all purchased luckily for just about half—you'll save a half or more too, so come tomorrow.

There's Our Dignified Charge System Too

A system which is so fair, fair no matter whether millionaires or laborers, they're all on an equal footing with us—all given advantage of a system which has made us thousands of friends and satisfied customers in less than a year—all welcomed, all assured of dependable clothing, courteous treatment and honest prices.

Prevailing Prices Never Were Lower

Your last chance because we've priced them all very closely for a quick selling. The prices, like the garments, will pleasantly surprise you—so you'd better come in tomorrow.

POSSE

Nemah, O., May 12.—Chased for hours by officers and a posse of farmers in automobiles and afoot after he had stolen a valuable horse and buggy from a rack on a business street at noon, Otis Hurley, formerly known as the prison demon, escaped his pursuers in ravines near Bell Brook, his former home. He abandoned the stolen property, which belonged to J. W. Smith.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS OLD SORES

If a quantity of normal blood is placed in a vessel and vigorously whipped with a bunch of twigs, a white, sticky substance is found clinging to the twigs and binding them together. This is a natural element of the circulation and is known as plasma, a fibrous constituent—and is the true healing quality of the blood. This plasminic property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation to any wound or open sore or ulcer on the flesh. Continually the blood discharges the impurities into the place and gradually the infection spreads and the sore enlarges. The nutritive corpuscles are also weakened, and the blood has not sufficient nourishing power with which to stimulate the place. External applications cannot cure an old sore, because such treatment does not affect the blood; the most that can be expected from plasters, washes, salves, etc., is a cleansing, soothing effect on the ulcer.

I was suffering greatly from a sore on my left breast, which had begun to eat, and at times deep, shooting pains would pass through it. I consulted physicians, but their treatment did not benefit me very much. I knew that the disease was hereditary in my case, as an only sister, my mother and two of her sisters had been similarly affected. After I had finished the first bottle of S.S.S. I felt some better, so continued it until I was cured.
Belton, Mo. MRS. J. CASSELL.

In 1877 I had my leg badly cut on the sharp edge of a barrel. A great sore formed, and for years no one knows what I suffered with the place. I tried, it seemed to me, everything I had ever heard of, but I got no relief. At last I began the use of S.S.S., and continued it until it removed all the poison from my blood and made a complete and permanent cure of the sore.
JNO. ELLIS.
108 Wyckoff St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

S.S.S. heals old sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes down into the blood, and removes the impurities and morbid matters that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it restores the healing, plasminic qualities and aids in promoting every necessary quality for good health. S.S.S. builds new flesh tissue from the bottom of the ulcer to the outer skin, and makes a permanent cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at drug stores.

SHEPARDSON DAY TO BE CELEBRATED AT OLD DENISON

Program, Which Includes a Musical in the Evening, Will Be Very Attractive—News of Granville.

Granville, May 12. —Among all the gala days which are celebrated here at Denison, there is one that stands out pre-eminently as Shepardson Day, and which belongs entirely to the girls. Founders' Day is set for Saturday, May 27, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the grand march will start from the gymnasium. During the afternoon each class will be represented in costume dances, tennis or races. There are several new features on the program which promise a more attractive carnival than has ever been given before. In the evening a musical will be held in Recital hall as a memorial to Mrs. E. S. Shepardson. The order of events for the carnival will be as follows: Music, by Ashton's orchestra; grand march of the participants from the gymnasium, tennis singles, prep Irish lift, archery contest, freshman hoop dance, junior Japanese dance, sophomore May-pole dance, senior hoop race, awarding of numerals, letters, prizes and grand march.

Mr. M. M. King, who for a number of years has been associated with the business interests of Granville, and who has hundreds of friends here and throughout the county, has sold his jewelry store to Mr. George Stuart, a skilled jeweler and optician, of Chillicothe. Mr. Stuart will take possession June 12. Mr. King has been in poor health for a long time and has not as yet determined what he will do in the future, but whatever he may engage in he will carry with him the best wishes of all the people of Granville for success.

For some time past the officials of the Ohio Electric Railway company have had in contemplation the improvement of the tracks along Broadway, in Granville. Not since Mr. Charles Vadian put down the new tracks a number of years ago, has anything been done in the way of improving the tracks. Recently a number of the officials of the company made an inspection over the Newark and Granville division and came to the conclusion that a new roadbed was necessary in Granville. To that end hundreds of new ties have been stacked up along the road and Friday morning a large gang of Hungarian workmen and others, to the number of over fifty, came here and commenced the work of tearing up the track and laying the new ties. When completed one of the prettiest pieces of track along the entire line will be in Granville.

The "back to the farm" idea has for a good while been promulgated with varying fortunes. There was a belief that it had become a guide to action, the results of which would be strikingly shown in the census figures. But the figures in some respects were disappointing, for they continued to show a drift, if not to the larger cities, to the smaller ones. Your correspondent heard a young country boy living in this vicinity, but who works at the Wehrle stove works in Newark say, "Why, I hate the very sight of a hoe. You don't catch me working on the farm again." However, the case is not without hope of a fuller realization for the public interest in agriculture and its kindred occupations has been much increased.

At the last meeting of the Fort-nightly club the Misses Janet and Margaret Jones were hostesses. It was an evening of music and was in charge of Mrs. Orley See. The program was as follows: Reading on Music, Miss Carpenter; Incidental Music to Henry VIII, Morris Dance; Shepardson's Dance, Torch Dance (Schumann) Evening Song, Mr. Orley See; Reading on Music, Mrs. Graham; Froman Indian Lodge (Sailor Song), both McDowell, by Leonard Arnold; Four Indian Songs from Cadman, Miss Albert Chrysler; Reading on Music, Mrs. G. Use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as prescribed. It builds up the nerve tissue, tones the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood; it brings into play all the vital forces and stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment.

COLUMBUS ARCHES TO COME DOWN

A new city beautiful and a realm of superb lighting will greet the visitors of the Ohio-Columbus Centennial during the summer months of 1912. Columbus, which has so long been known as the Arch City, will shake off that appellation, and become the home of the boulevard cluster light plan. Plans for this work are now well under way.

There will be at least nine miles of streets illuminated by cluster tungsten lamps placed at intervals not more than 100 feet apart. When the system with underground conduits is completed all the present arches will be taken down. The objection to the arch has been that it obstructs the view during the day time, and that it is tremendously expensive to operate. Arch lights cost at least six times as much per given unit of illumination as do the best grade of tungsten light standards.

The merchants and the city have combined on this project, which will represent an outlay of $150,000. This is only one of many of the civic betterments planned for Columbus.

Special sale underwear, tomorrow only 50 dozen to sell at 18c. RITZLE BROS

We will offer for Friday and Saturday of this week, special low prices on all of our trimmed hats. 11-21 CLOUSE & SHAWNEER

WE WORK

First, to earn money to buy the necessities of life. These we must have and it takes money to obtain them. Simple promises to pay will not satisfy the grocer, or the landlord. As people work they should make their money work and get five per cent interest by leaving it with The Buckeye State Building & Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio. In point of money expended, however, Ohio is behind many states, including Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New York, Connecticut and California. California has just voted $15,000,000 for good roads. Governor Harmon is yet to act on the Hudson and McGuire bills. The forecast of a veto on the levy measure has been made by some.

MONEY BACK

Hyomei Cures Catarrh Without Stomach Dosing, or Money Back.

Yes, dear reader, catarrh can be cured; but not by pouring vile, nauseating drugs into the stomach. And catarrh germs thrive, flourish and multiply in the nose and throat. Can you kill these tough and persistent little health destroyers by swallowing pills or nostrum? Any physician will tell you it cannot be done.

HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-mei) is a germ killing vaporized air which, when breathed either through the mouth or nose, will kill catarrh germs and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane promptly. It gives relief in two minutes.

HYOMEI is such a powerful germ destroyer that it penetrates every fold and crevice of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

A complete outfit, which includes inhaler, a bottle of HYOMEI and simple instructions for use, costs $1.00.

Should you need a second bottle of Hyomei the price is only 50c. Evans' Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere sell HYOMEI.
